TEACHER'S DAY

Teacher's Day is special because it reminds students to show respect and gratitude towards their teachers. Teachers guide students not just in studies but also in discipline, values, and life lessons. It is a day for students to thank teachers for their hard work, patience, and dedication. Celebrating this day helps students understand the value of education and the role teachers play in shaping their future. It strengthens the bond between teachers and students. Students of Preparatory celebrated the day by participating in role play of their favourite teachers.

LIBRARY ACTIVITY

Students of grade VIII participated in a Biography Writing activity. They explored the lives of inspiring personalities, highlighting struggles and achievements. This activity enhanced their research and writing skills while motivating them to learn valuable lessons from real-life role models.

LIBRARY ACTIVITY

Students of grade VII, participated in a creative Magazine making Activity. The Library served as an ideal environment where the students enthusiastically prepared articles, stories, Poems and Drawings working in teams. The activity encouraged creativity, teamwork and expression turning the library into a space of innovation.

ENRICHMENT ACTIVITY

The Cuckoo Paper Craft activity was conducted with Class 2 children to combine creativity with learning. The aim of the activity was to enhance fine motor skills, encourage imagination, and connect the students with the poem "Have You Seen the Cuckoo Bird?"

Children decorated their birds with bright colors and added details like wings, eyes, and beaks. The students enjoyed the hands-on experience and worked with great enthusiasm. The activity not only improved their concentration and coordination but also helped them relate art with literature. In the end, each child proudly displayed their cuckoo craft, turning the classroom into a colorful display of creativity. The activity was a joyful learning experience and successfully integrated art with English.

ASSEMBLY

Festivals are not just about fun; they teach children culture, values, joy, and unity.

Celebrating festivals is very important for children because it supports their overall growth and learning in many ways. Festivals help children learn about their culture, traditions, and values, making them feel connected to their roots. By celebrating with friends, family, and community, children learn sharing, caring, and togetherness. Children learn to respect the different cultures and religions by celebrating festivals.

Students of grade 1 conducted a morning assembly showing the importance of Navratri and Vijyadashmi, they performed garba and spoke about the importance of the festival. The stage was like a colorful rangoli as they all were dressed in their traditional attire.

ASSEMBLY

Our little ones are ready to present an assembly on Sense Organs.

God has blessed us with five senses:

Eyes – to see

Ears – to hear

Nose – to smell

Tongue – to taste

Skin – to feel

Through rhymes, lines and fun activities, children shared how important our senses are and why we should take care of them. Let's cheer for our tiny learners as they spread knowledge in their own cute way!

PROPERTIES OF WATER

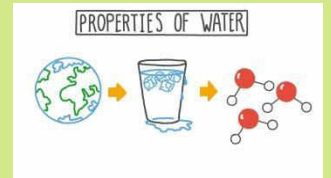

Teaching kids about water is essential because water is vital for all lifeforms, and educating children fosters lifelong habits of water conservation and appreciation for this crucial resource. This knowledge helps them become responsible adults who use water wisely, understand its role in the environment and their bodies, and contribute to a sustainable future by reducing waste.

Prep children wholeheartedly participated in a few activities on 'properties of water and forms of water.' The understanding of water's properties will benefit children in the long run and help them become responsible citizens.

DRESS AND TELL - COMMUNITY HELPER

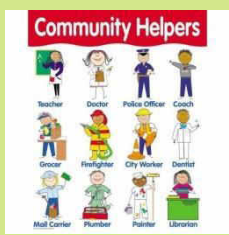

Our little stars stepped into the shoes of real-life heroes today! Dressed as doctors, teachers, police officers, postmen, milkmen, chefs, and brave firefighters, the children confidently spoke a few lines about their chosen community helper. This fun-filled activity not only boosted their confidence but also helped them understand the importance of people who make our community safe, healthy, and happy.

Hats off to our tiny helpers who reminded us that every role matters in making the world a better place!

ACTIVITY ON FLOAT AND SINK

Water is one of the foremost necessities of our lives. One of the sub- topics of teaching the topic water is- what floats and what sinks in water and what dissolves and doesn't dissolve in the universal solvent- WATER. Concepts like these provide opportunities to students to observe how everyday objects behave in water and to investigate the factors related to it.

As a part of the culmination activity, experiments like float and sink and what dissolves and what doesn't in water, were carried out. Children found these activities enjoyable because they actively engaged in them independently and experienced the learning firsthand.

GRANDPARENT'S DAY

Grandparents are the roots of the family tree—they give strength, values, and love to keep the family united. They give unconditional love and make children feel safe and happy. They teach family traditions, culture, and values to the younger generation. With their experience, they guide the family and share wisdom for solving problems. Grandparents bring all family members closer and strengthen relationships. Special celebration was held at DPS 84 to help children make joyful memories with their grandparents, which they will cherish forever.
